Main goal

The main sight of the thesis is research about the microservices architecture (MSA) and the usage of acquired knowledge for refactoring and finalising the existing information system for project management.

Structure

Chapter 1 contains a brief analysis of previous project.

Chapter 2 contains a specification of the new project.

Chapter 3 contains an analysis of MSA.

Chapter 4 contains an analysis and implementation of the server.

Chapter 5 contains an analysis and implementation of the client.

Chapter 6 contains an information about testing.

Chapter 7 contains a deployment information.

At the conclusion, the result of the work, achievements of predetermined goals and fulfilment of the master's thesis are evaluated.

The source code of all applications, documentation and other materials are provided in the appendices and enclosed media.
